

Brief Bio

Name: Adam Kyamatare

Role: Trustee

WK UWSCA (2003-2004)

Adam is a trustee of the Waterford Kamhlaba Foundation of South Africa.

He is the principal of MPG holdings in Kigali, Rwanda.

He has vast experience as a board member of over seven companies across the African Region.

Adam has held various leadership positions which include being head of Strategy Development and Implementation at Cogebanque, Executive Director and Chief Financial Officer at Gorilla Games, Analyst in the office of Minister of Finance and Economic Planning in Rwanda as well as being the Business Development analyst at UNOPS in Copenhagen, Denmark.

He holds an honors degree in Economics, Government and minor in Film Studies from St. Lawrence University, New York and a Postgraduate in International Business from University of Leeds, UK.